Project Bolt: Process letter Phase I

Dear Sir,

To further expand the Bolt model in and outside its current core markets and make the organisation future proof, the shareholders and management of Bolt are seeking to partner with a financial sponsor who can actively support this growth strategy.

The shareholders of SCT Invest BV and General Investments NV (hereafter, the “Shareholders”) have retained Kumulus Partners NV (hereafter the “Adviser”) to act as their exclusive financial adviser in ascertaining the interest of such a sponsor (hereafter, each a “Candidate Investor”) and acquire a stake in SCT Invest BV, which will in the same transaction fully acquire General Investments NV (hereafter jointly the “Company” or “Bolt” and the envisaged transaction, hereafter the “Transaction”).

The selection process will be organised in two phases. This letter sets out the detailed procedures that will govern Phase I. During the first phase (“Phase I”), you will be invited to submit a detailed preliminary offer (the “Indicative Offer” or “Offer”). At the conclusion of Phase I, a restricted number of Candidate Investors will be selected to participate in the second phase (“Phase II”). This selection will be based on the Indicative Offers submitted by the Candidate Investors.

Phase I

Overview of information provided

In order to assist you in the preparation of your Offer, you will be provided with the information outlined below. When submitting your Indicative Offer you are expected to consider all information provided.

- (i) The Information Memorandum accompanied by a datapack including key schedules to support and facilitate your analysis;
- (ii) Excerpts of the Commercial Vendor Due Diligence (“CVDD”) report prepared by Roland Berger containing more detailed commercial information upon execution of the release letter. Please send a signed copy of the Roland Berger release letter, or any queries you might have, to bolt@kumuluspartners.com

- (iii) Excerpts of the Financial Vendor Due Diligence report prepared by Eight Advisory (“FVDD”) upon execution of the release letter. Please send a signed copy of the Eight Advisory release letter, or any potential queries you might have, to bolt@kumuluspartners.com;
- (iv) Key terms as the result of a lender education will be provided to you in later instance in the course of Phase I.

The Adviser will be available throughout the course of Phase I to respond to reasonable requests for additional information and questions. We remind you that you are not authorised to contact the above-mentioned advisers with respect to the Transaction. Your single point of contact remains Kumulus Partners.

Candidate Investors should communicate their interest in the form of a detailed, Indicative Offer which should be in writing in English and include the following information:

Section 1. General

- (i) The identity, the shareholder structure and ultimate ownership of the Candidate Investor, and key elements of corporate governance;
- (ii) A list of the key deal team members and the person(s) which will represent the Candidate Investor in the board of directors as the case might be as well as the senior contact person for Project Bolt;
- (iii) Confirmation that the Candidate Investor has sufficient funds available and committed to finance the contemplated investment ticket for the Transaction and any potential follow-up investment to support a buy-and-build strategy (including the respective fund);
- (iv) Confirmation that your Offer is made as sole principal for your own account and not as an agent or acting in concert or as part of a consortium in relation to the Transaction (it being understood that you shall notify the Adviser immediately if you wish to cooperate with any third party in relation to the Transaction or if you have been contacted by any third party seeking such cooperation, which shall in any case be subject to the Adviser’s approval);
- (v) A description of the added value the Candidate Investor would bring to the Company and the management team; and
- (vi) An initial view on Bolt’s value creation plan.

Section 2. Due diligence

- (i) An overview of the work that has been performed to date and the key findings that came forward during your analysis; and

- (ii) Key requirements or matters of material importance as well as a list of key due diligence needed for you to complete an assessment of the Company and potentially submit a binding offer at a later stage.

Section 3. Financial elements

- (i) The price which you are prepared to pay in cash, stated in euro, for 100% of the shares of the Company (assuming SCT Invest BV owns General Investments NV outright) on a cash and debt free basis, as well as the balance sheet items which would bridge the enterprise value to the equity value of the shares. In your Offer, please clarify any deviations from the proposed adjustments as presented in the FVDD based on a locked-box balance sheet as per 31 December 2025. Note that we ask you to provide a single enterprise value rather than a range of values;
- (ii) Confirmation that you agree on the locked-box mechanism that the purchase price shall be determined based on a locked-box mechanism on the basis of 31 December 2025 locked-box accounts, increased by a ticker fee to account for the estimated net cash flow generated by the Company between the locked-box date and the closing date which shall be communicated in a later phase;
- (iii) A description of the valuation methodology and underlying assumptions; and
- (iv) The financing structure for the Transaction, including financing details with the amounts and sources of any equity, debt and quasi debt financing used taking into account the result of the lender education and indication of debt structure.

Section 4. Reinvestment, post-transaction governance and exit alignment

Given the reinvesting Shareholders' intention to remain significantly invested in the Company and actively involved in its development following completion of the Transaction, your Indicative Offer should also address the following matters relating to the envisaged long-term partnership and governance of the Company:

- (i) Governance and operational autonomy
The Company currently holds a strong market position in Belgium and Luxembourg, which constitutes the core of its historical development and remains central to its future strategy.
In this context, you are invited to outline your proposed governance framework for the Company following completion of the Transaction, including the allocation of decision-making powers between shareholders, the board and management. In particular, please indicate how you would envisage ensuring sufficient operational autonomy for management with respect to the day-to-day management and development of the Company's activities (including in Belgium and Luxembourg), including with regard to operational initiatives and potential acquisitions or strategic opportunities in these markets within an agreed financial threshold; and

(ii) Exit alignment

As the reinvesting Shareholders will remain a significant shareholder following completion of the Transaction, they attach importance to partnering with an investor whose long-term vision is aligned with the continued development of the Company.

You are therefore invited to describe your typical exit strategy and the principles you would envisage governing a future exit process. In particular, please outline how you would approach a future liquidity event in a manner that ensures continued alignment between shareholders and preserves the Company's long-term strategic positioning, including the extent to which the reinvesting managers would be involved in discussions relating to the timing of an exit and the identification and profile of potential acquirers (whereby the reinvesting managers will in any case expect to be actively involved in the selection of the potential acquirers before and during the exit process).

Section 5. Legal elements

- (i) Details of any corporate, shareholder, regulatory and anti-trust, or other approvals or conditions, or any restrictions under court order, together with prospective timings, required to consummate the Transaction;
- (ii) Confirmation that the submission of your Offer has been approved by your Board of Directors or other similar body (e.g. Supervisory Board, Investment Committee), or, in the absence of such approval, the most senior level of corporate approval that your Offer has received; and
- (iii) Confirmation that the Candidate Investor shall procure – if designated as ultimate Candidate Investor – at its own cost, a buy-side warranty and indemnity insurance (W&I) as part of the ultimate transaction and that, consequently, the liability of the sellers in relation to the business warranties shall be capped at EUR 1.00.

Section 6. Process

- (i) The identity and contact names of your financial, legal or other advisers retained by you for this process, if any;
- (ii) Confirmation that you can complete the transaction in September 2026; and
- (iii) Any other matters of material importance to you to complete an assessment of the Transaction.

The Offer should also include a statement by the Candidate Investor confirming that the information set out therein is complete, true and accurate and that it shall inform the Adviser immediately should such information materially change.

An electronic copy of the Offer shall be due by e-mail (sent to bolt@kumuluspartners.com) at the latest on Thursday 9 July 2026, at 14:00 CET, to the attention of Bart Collier and Jan-Baptist Polfliet.

Upon receipt of the Offers, the Shareholders and the Adviser will evaluate the Offers based on the content, with particular attention to the following elements:

- The proposed consideration to acquire the Company;
- The intentions and fit of the Candidate Investors with regard to the Company's management;
- The (re-)investment terms, governance and exit alignment;
- The added value presented by the Candidate Investors; and
- The level of certainty associated with the subsequent execution of the proposed Transaction (confirmatory nature of due diligence and financing).

Phase II

The second phase of the process will be split up in two subphases, Phase IIa and IIb.

In Phase IIa selected Candidate Investors will gain access to the full FVDD and CVDD reports, as well as to the tax factbook. We will also set up face-to-face meetings with the Shareholders to discuss the potential future cooperation and governance in detail. This subphase should allow the Candidate Investor to reconfirm its investment thesis, as well as allow the Shareholders to assess the added value the Candidate Investor will bring to the organisation. At the end of Phase IIa, a further selection will be made and only a very select number will proceed to the Phase IIb.

Phase IIb will include:

- Due diligence via access to an electronic data room;
- Further meetings and discussions with the Shareholder and Company's management, on topics such as the Company's medium and long-term objectives and strategy;
- Review of a draft share purchase agreement which shall be subject to Belgian law; and
- Review of a non-binding indications report obtained from a reputable broker in respect of a buy-side warranty and indemnity insurance in connection with the Transaction.

The detailed procedures that will govern Phase II will be provided at that time.

At the end of Phase II, the retained Candidate Investors will be asked to submit a final and binding offer in accordance with the terms of a second process letter which will be sent by the Adviser to the relevant Candidate Investors. The envisaged timing for the transaction foresees a signing in September 2026.
